

Dreams Of The Past

Words & Music by JIM HOWARD

Adagio ♩ = 68

Em D C D Em C E

They were born in bon-nie Scot-land, in a land sae brave and proud,

C D Em C D Em

— they'd hear the an-cient sto-ries, — the auld folk spoke a - loud. — The young boys

D C D Em C E C D Em

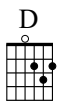

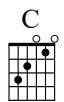

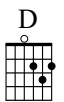

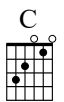

all ex - ci - ted, — as they'd roam and play, — of how it was at Ban-nock -

Allegro ♩ = 138

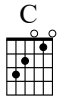

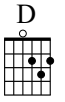

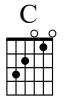

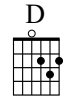

C D Em Em

burn, on that glo-ri-ous day. —

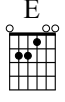

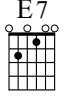

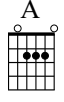

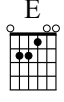

1. They were born in
2. One day when
3. To - wards the
4. In the well so
5. But a dream is bon - nie they were an - cient dark and just a Scot-land, play - ing, cas - tle, deep, — dream, — in their youth they'd roam and play, — o'er the a - cross the fields so green, — they - 'd pre - ten - ding to be Knights, — with a a wish they both would make, — to be and our hopes are still a - live, — like our hills — and glens by the sil - ver streams, sae — braw on a sum - mers day. — jump — the burns and — climb the trees, a — sight you've of - ten seen. — short — straight stick there — in their hands, a — sword for — them to fight. — back in the days of the Lords and clans, and King Ro - bert — they would meet. — fa - thers and kin be - fore us, — Scot - land — will sur - vive. —

— From each nook and cran-nie tae the for - est deep, by the ri - vers, — They - 'd walk a long — the — auld track road, for — many a — To — meet their foe — in the cas - tle ground, they - 'd fight un - — On that glo - rious day — at — Ban -nock burn, they — both would — (Instrumental)

E7 A E E7 A E

burns and mile or til the proud - ly streams, sae, and their death, till to how they'd thought were vic - to see King play a - bout the hear them braes, and cry, up - how their

B7 E C D Em C D Em Em

1, 2, 3, 4. 5.

minds would sum - mers ne - ver full of dream. day. rest. fright.

D C D Em C E

But a dream is just a dream, and our hopes are still a live, like our fathers and kin be - fore us, Scot - land will sur - vive. Scot - land will sur - vive. Scot-land will sur - vive.

C D Em C D Em C D

Em C D Em C D Em C D

Em C D Em C D Em